

CARNIVAL AT RALEIGH

City Putting on Gala Attire and Fakirs Coming.

UNIVERSITY WINS SUIT

Baptist Female College to Receive at Once a Large Portion of the Legacy of Justice Faircloth—Other Opinions Handed Down.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., April 28.—The city is now getting well into her gala attire for the approaching May Festival and Merchants' Carnival, which opens May 4th, continuing until the 6th. Nearly all the business houses on Fayetteville and Main Streets are bright with streamers, flags, etc., and the great arch at the head of Fayetteville Street, opposite the Capitol, is nearing completion. The carnival attractions are beginning to arrive, and fakirs are to be seen on all sides. The one-fare for the round trip given by the railroad for the carnival is expected to bring large crowds.

The Supreme Court has decided in favor of the Baptist Female University in the case of the university against E. B. Jordan, executor of ex-Chief Justice W. T. Faircloth. Decided, first, that the university will come into immediate possession of about $1,300 of a $20,000 legacy, which it was not expected, it would get until the death of Mrs. Faircloth. All the property was left her for life, but she demanded dower, hence the decision of the court. The following other opinions have been handed down this week: Pharr vs. Railroad, from Mecklenburg, affirmed; Extinguishing Company vs. Cotton Mills, from Mecklenburg, new trial; Alexander vs. Manufacturing Company, from Cabarrus, per curiam, affirmed; Malloy vs. Cotton Mills, from Lincoln, affirmed; Davis vs. Morris, from Gaston, no error; Frazier vs. Wilkes, from Mecklenburg, per curiam, affirmed; Bumgardner vs. Railroad, from Union, no error; State vs. Manning, from Durham, no error; Hinson vs. Telegraph Company, from Durham, new trial; Sprinkle vs. Wellborn, from Wilkes, per curiam, new trial; Lockhart vs. Covington, from Union, no error; State vs. Graham, from Cumberland, reversed; McNeill vs. railroad, from Moore, error.

It is not thought that there will be any appeal from the verdict of the jury last night giving the family of Engineer R. Watson $10,000 for the killing of Watson last July in an accident near Raleigh. The liability of the road was admitted, and it was only a question of the amount of damages the suit being for $10,000.

A jury was impaneled this morning in the case of W. C. Brower vs. Seaboard Air Line for damages in burning 600 bales of cotton at Wake Forest. Subsequently the plaintiff asked leave to amend their complaint and this being allowed defendant's counsel obtained continuance. Similar action was taken in the case of Virginia Insurance Company vs. the Seaboard Air Line.

MERCURY A POOR CRUTCH.

Experience is a dear teacher, as those who pin their faith to Mercury find out sooner or later. This powerful poison combined with Potash, is the treatment generally prescribed for Contagious Blood Poison, but failure and disappointment is the inevitable result. These minerals drive in the sores and eruptions, and apparently the disease is gone and the patient believes the cure permanent, but soon learns better when the old symptoms return almost as soon as the treatment is left off. You must either keep the system saturated with mercury or endure the tortures of sore mouth, ulcerated throat and the mortification that one naturally feels when the body is covered with disgusting sores, rashes, copper-colored spots and other aggravating symptoms of this vile disease.

Mercury and Potash are poor crutches, and their use eventually breaks down the constitution, ruins the digestion and causes the bones to decay. S. S. S., a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys every atom of the deadly virus, overcomes the bad effects of the mercury and cleanses the blood and system so thoroughly that never after are any signs of the disease seen. Nor is the taint ever transmitted to others. We will send free our book on Contagious Blood Poison, which is interesting and contains full directions for treating yourself at home. Medical advice or any special information desired given without charge.

Two Hospitals Said Diabetes.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes Are Positively Curable.

People either cured or recovering from the above diseases are in every ward in this city. Mrs. O. C. Mathewson, proprietor of the Clifton Hotel, 828 Powell street, is one of them, and makes this statement:

828 Powell St., San Francisco, Nov. 21, 1901. For two years I suffered greatly from diabetes. Finally I had to go to one of the hospitals going to one of this city's very best. Three physicians there examined me, and as diabetes, and put me under treatment and strict diet. Getting no relief, I went home. I got steadily worse and went to another well-known city hospital. The physicians there also said diabetes, and stated that they could prolong my life, but that I could never be well. I left this hospital after a few months completely broken down, the percentage of sugar being 11 per cent. It was at this juncture I heard of the Fulton Compound and sent for it. The second and third weeks I began to sleep untroubledly, and found that the awful thirst I had suffered with for over two years had left me. I am now an entirely different person, though still taking it to insure permanency. I have recommended it to a number, all getting favorable results. One was a warm friend and another is a Berkeley attorney who had Bright's Disease and is now perfectly restored. I dislike publicity, but feel that this is altogether to be known.

Mrs. O. C. Mathewson.

Medical works agree that Bright's Disease and Diabetes are incurable, but 87 per cent. are positively recovering under the Fulton Compound. (Common forms of kidney complaints and rheumatism offer but short resistance. Price, 60¢ for the Bright's Disease and 60¢ for the Diabetes Compound. John F. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINCHESTER, VA., April 28.—The Crisman family of this section are reliably informed of there being a fortune in real estate awaiting them in Germany. Adam Crisman, an heir, is preparing to go to Germany.

Russia Issues Note Denying Any Change of Policy.

ACCEPT THE DISCLAIMER

Our Officials Glad to Do This, Though Anxiety and Apprehension Are Felt as to Treaty Ports and Concessions in Manchuria.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 28.—The State Department has received a dispatch from Ambassador McCormick, at St. Petersburg, to the effect that the Russian minister for Foreign Affairs has assured him that the published reports of the proposed convention between Russia and China, relating to Manchuria, are absolutely incorrect, and there is no foundation for the report that Russia demand that China shall refuse the requests of other powers for treaty ports and concessions in Manchuria.

He has been assured that the Russian government has no intention to exclude other countries from advantages now enjoyed in Manchuria, or to confer exclusive privileges upon Russians; that the United States may be sure that nothing would be done to close doors now open and that American commerce and American capital are those which Russia most desires to attract. It is understood also that similar assurances were received by the Secretary of the State from His Excellency, the Russian ambassador, yesterday evening. These assurances have done much to remove the feeling of anxiety and apprehension which was aroused in Washington by the first reports from Peking of Russia's intention to dominate Manchuria. The officials are glad to take the Russian disclaimer just as it comes, without stopping to raise any point as to whether there has not really been a complete change in the Russian demand rather than an error in the original statement from Peking. There is no disposition to be hypercritical, but the fact that nothing is said about Russian evacuation of the province of Manchuria, according to course justify our government in keeping a close watch on North China and Mongolia, as well as Manchuria.

EXPLANATION GIVEN BY COUNT CASSINI

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 28.—Russia's part in what has come to be known as the Manchurian incident, was explained this evening by Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, to a representative of the Associated Press and because of the conflicting reports which have been circulating regarding the Russian-Chinese negotiations at Peking, Count Cassini has consented to the publication of the interview. The Ambassador said to-night: "Acting under instructions from my government, I have officially assured the Secretary of State not only that American interests in Manchuria, trade and industrial, will be thoroughly safeguarded, so far as Russia is concerned, but also that unfortunately erroneous reports contained in Minister Conger's dispatches several days ago from Peking, relative to the demands of Russia in Manchuria. "Those acquainted with conditions in Manchuria will bear me out in the statement that the country has its importance of American goods for its upbuilding, and certainly Russia, who is doing all she can to develop the great territory, would be the last to stand in the way of an increase in the trade of Manchuria. The usual number of licenses were issued at West Point, with one exception. The "Last Chance" saloon is to close. Mr. John Marshall Lewis, son of Mr. H. J. Lewis, Commonwealth's attorney for King William county, lately a student at Richmond College, has accepted a position with Mr. Reuben Foster, general manager of the York River line. two miles or more east of the station is covered with from ten to forty feet of rock, and the telegraph wires are down. All communication is being conducted over one wire running west, and this one line is so blocked with private messages and inquiries from the outside that it is only with the greatest difficulty that press matter can be sent out.

SEISMIC OR VOLCANIC.

At dusk to-day the rock was still being thrown on the town from Turtle Mountain. It is generally thought that the disruption of Turtle Mountain was brought about by a seismic disturbance, although some persons declare that the origin of the upheaval was volcanic. There is no lava, and outside of the smoke from the mountain the atmosphere is clear. There is no explanation, however, for the upheaval of the mountain.

SIMPLY INVENTIONS. SAYS A RUSSIAN NOTE

(By Associated Press.) ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—A semi-official note on the subject of Russian policy towards Manchuria, published yesterday, charges the "discovery" ascribed to Russia in the dispatches from Peking as being simply inventions as already cabled to the Associated Press on the authority of the Russian Foreign Office.

"No change has occurred," says the note, "in the intentions of Russia with reference to Manchuria. The exchange of views about to occur between the Russian minister and the Chinese government can relate only to the measures to be adopted for ensuring the preservation of tranquillity after the Russian order have marched out of the province. Russia has absolutely no intention to place impediments in the way of foreign trade."

CRUSHED UNDER THE MOUNTAIN

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the following conservative estimate of the loss of life was given out: Men, women and children killed in their beds as they slept, eighty-two; men working outside the mine, twelve; men working inside the mine, twelve; men working outside the mine, twelve; men working inside the mine, twelve.

TRYING TO AVERT DISASTER.

Most of the men imprisoned in the mine, whose death at first seemed certain, got out alive late this evening. There were seventeen men in the mine. Two died from suffocation, but the other fifteen worked their way out. The resulting party above ground despaired of saving the entombed miners, for the entrance was blocked by immense piles of broken rocks. The miners, within, however, found an exit where there was through thirty feet of cutting down from the mine and after about two hours emerged from the mine uninjured. One of the imprisoned men, who so narrowly escaped death went home after emerging from the mine and found his house destroyed, and his wife and six children dead.

There is now plenty of air in the mine, and the inside workings are intact. A special from Frank at 9 P. M. estimates the total number of dead at ninety-five.

DUE TO ROCK SLIDE.

The latest theory as to the cause of the disaster is that it was due to a rock slide which carried the top of Turtle Mountain down upon the village below.

It is now thought that what was supposed to be smoke of a volcano was dust, and the continued fall of small bits of rock

WASHINGTON STATUE AGAIN DISFIGURED

While Judge L. L. Lewis, United States District Attorney; Captain J. C. Featherston, and Hon. C. A. Heermans, of Montgomery, were standing in the Capitol yesterday, their attention was directed to the fact that some vandal had chipped a piece off the tassel on the cane of the Houdou statue of Washington. It was evidently the work of some rascal hunter and has been done recently. All three gentlemen expressed themselves in strong condemnation of the vandal's work. Judge Lewis said he thought it ought to be made a capital offense to deface, disfigure or damage that work of art, and the other gentlemen agreed with him.

CONVENTION REPORTS

About Ready for the Printer, and Are Very Voluminous.

Mr. James H. Lindsay, proprietor of the Charlottesville Progress, and a member of the recent Constitutional Convention, is in the city, stopping at Murphy's. Mr. Lindsay has spent much time for the past six months or more editing the debates of the convention for publication. Asked as to the status of the work, he stated that the debates were about ready for the printer. He estimated that the debates would make two volumes of 1,500 pages each. The debates before editing amounted to about 5,000 pages, so that the editor has cut out about two-fifths of the original matter. All mere verbiage and formality has been expunged and the remainder embraces just the cream of the discussions in the convention. The work will be in demand among constitutional lawyers when they are placed on the market.
